Dear Clayton,

We as a team want to express our gratitude for allowing us to work with your company over this last semester. We all agree that we've been able to develop new skills in research, grow our understanding for what it takes to deliver meaning results towards a professional project, and gain experience that will help us as we are beginning careers. We each have received feedback that you have given, and we have done our best to implement your suggestions to bring about your vision for Data Crunch Solutions.

As you already know, we worked closely with you throughout the project, so none of the processes and decisions we took should be too surprising. We have our regular weekly meetings; we sent you a beginning and end of the week email to help you understand what we were doing. But to ensure that future interns or employees that you have will be able to pick up right where we left off, we included "Appendix B: Documentation" to the end of our final report that will serve as the steppingstone for whoever follows us. We hope this section will also clear up any confusion for why or how we gained our conclusions in the case you have future questions.

Best Regards,

Sean Mcquire, Kody Price, Jacob Bullock, Carson Miller, Tyson Emonts
